

XM Radio is a valuable tool for us as truck drivers. Having to constantly switch stations and search for local information while we're driving is inherently dangerous and distracts us from paying attention to the road ahead of us. Knowing where to find up to date traffic and weather information saves me from that dangerous task of constantly scanning radio stations to find the information I need. I am also able to check that local information while out of town a ways. If there is massive traffic or closed roads, I am able to pull over at a safe location BEFORE the problem and not become a part of the problem myself. I might not have that information if I have to search local stations for it. I consider XM and the services it offers one of the most important tools I have as a driver. Please let us continue to receive this most valuable information!
